

Paragon v.2.0 Paragon Benefits for APX Clients

KlarityRisk

3Q 2016

The Risk Management solution, Paragon, offered by KlarityRisk, stands out as a thoroughly tested, functional and user friendly solution, which fully satisfies the requirements for the measurement of Market Risk.

Paragon offers a seamless integration with Advent Portfolio Exchange (APX®).

For the APX client this means that:

There is a seamless end-to-end process for retrieving positions from and to APX via synchronization. Moreover, consolidated reports and dashboards are provided in APX, achieving a holistic view of Portfolio Positions and Risk Measures, for decision making.

The required static data, prices, time-series etc., are automatically retrieved from APX, without need of extra Data licensing cost.

The users benefit from the fact that the look and feeling, the definitions, terminology, data content and structures, aggregation levels, groupings, etc., are the same, therefore the learning and familiarization curve for the Advent user is quite high.

The extra reporting needs both in Risk and Compliance are easily developed with SSRS technology based on combined data of APX and Paragon.

The required Infrastructure is complying with Advent's platform, hence economies of scale and synergies again are achieved.

The workload associated with the initial setup is minimum, since Paragon functionally and technically has been developed to operate with APX logic, hence it comes with embedded integration and operation mechanisms based on their existing functionality.

Paragon throughout its road maps follows all APX major releases in order to support the tight integration, and therefore all future upgrades of APX and Paragon will be unified, providing scale economies and but also minimum workload and work cost for the end user.

About KlarityRisk
